

Introduction

The Periodontal Research Group (PRG) is a forum for IADR's active members involved in any aspect of periodontal research. Our mission is to advance periodontal research activities and increase knowledge with the aim to improve periodontal health of patient and the public.

The PRG also aims to facilitate presentation, discussion, and publication of scientific papers on periodontal research, and to identify and support excellence in both young and established scientists in Periodontology through its competitive awards and grants. We have members from all 6 continents as demonstrated in Graph 1.

All PRG members are invited to our annual business meeting and complimentary reception, held during the annual IADR General Session. Please, visit our web site to read PRG's constitution, check for up-to-date information related to our annual awards and research grant opportunities, and learn more about the group.

Election of new abstract reviewers

One of the novelties for the period 2017-2018 was the election of new PRG "Abstract Reviewers". Fifty-three PRG members volunteered as Abstract Reviewers for the 8 vacancies in three different areas: Diagnosis/Epidemiology, Pathogenesis and Therapy.

"We were glad that over 50 members were eager to collaborate with the group by reviewing the AADR and IADR abstracts. However, as we only had 8 openings, the Board voted to choose the new collaborators. The Board has kept all the other participants' names on a database for future openings. Thank you all again for your support."

Magda Feres, President

BREAKING NEWS FROM 2018

The election process for Scientific Group officers has changed

The election for IADR Scientific Group Officers is now being held in conjunction with the IADR election. Thus, we will not be conducting our elections at the annual business meetings anymore.

Each IADR Member or Retired members will receive a ballot for the IADR Vice-president and for the officers of any Scientific Group or Network they belong to. IADR Student members will only receive the ballot for the Scientific Group or Networks they belong to. Successful candidates will begin their term of service at the conclusion of the annual IADR General Session.

Please, see below more details about the recent changes in the election process:

Excerpt from IADR Scientific Group/Network Governance Handbook:

"All current members of the SG/N are eligible to serve as officers of the SG/N and vote in the annual election. The annual election of officers is held in conjunction with the IADR general election for Vice-president. A current member is defined by a member of the SG/N that has paid the current year membership dues. Members are both those that have identified the SG/N as their primary affiliation or have added the SG/N to their annual membership.

Each SG/N must nominate a minimum of two individuals to stand for each elected position, vice-president every year and Secretary/Treasurer and Council every three years. Candidates may only stand for election for one position in each election. SG/N officers are able to be elected to the same office, but may not serve more than two consecutive terms for any elected office.

Prospective candidates for the position of vice president, president-elect or president should have held at least 1-2 positions within the SG/N before the actual election date. This requirement allows for better and improved understanding of the general operations and limits disruptions of effective processes within the SG/N.

If an officer does not renew their membership at any time during their term, their term is terminated and remaining officers shall appoint a member of the SG/N to fill the vacant position for the remainder of the term. Individuals completing the term of office are still eligible to serve two consecutive terms for the same elected office.

SG/N that do not provide candidates may risk not receiving the SG/N membership dues collected for that year."

Starting in 2018, the PRG has a new award: IADR/IAP Ricardo Teles Clinical Research Award in Periodontology

This research award, sponsored by The International Academy of Periodontology (IAP) was established in recognition of Dr. Ricardo Teles contributions to Clinical Periodontal Research.

The award recognizes a Clinical Research Paper accepted for publication or published during the preceding year. One paper reporting the results of a clinical study will be selected in one of the following categories: onset, progression and treatment of periodontal diseases.

The award consists of a cash prize of US$3000 and a recognition plaque.

The new classification of periodontal and peri-implant diseases and conditions is now published

The American Academy of Periodontology (AAP) and European Federation of Periodontology (EFP) have published the official proceedings from the 2017 World Workshop on the Classification of Periodontal and Peri-Implant Diseases and Conditions.

Highlights from the World Workshop include a recategorization of various forms of periodontitis and the definition of periodontal health, the development of a novel staging and grading system for periodontitis, and the inaugural classification for peri-implant diseases and conditions.

The review papers and consensus reports from the Workshop are available in the June 2018 print and online issues of the Journal of Periodontology and Journal of Clinical Periodontology.
