ANNUAL REPORT 2022

ABOUT IADR

The International Association for Dental Research (IADR) is a nonprofit organization with over 9,000 individual members worldwide. IADR is the premier association for those involved with dental, oral, and craniofacial research across multiple disciplines.

IADR MISSION

Drive dental, oral, and craniofacial research for health and well-being worldwide.

IADR VISION

Oral health for the world through discovery and dissemination.

IADR VALUES

Scientific Excellence ▲ Social Responsibility ▲ Scientific Community

Scientific Excellence:

IADR values science conducted at the highest possible levels of rigor, innovation and ethics, across disciplines, from discovery science to clinical implementation to global population health.

Social Responsibility:

IADR values the pursuit of science to improve health and well-being for all people, to reduce health inequalities and inequities, and proactively takes actions and positions to improve health.

Scientific Community:

IADR values a diverse and inclusive scientific workforce, promotes work-life balance, and supports educational activities and mentoring networks to develop the next generation of scientists.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

It has been a genuine privilege serving as IADR President this past year as our community continues to drive dental, oral, and craniofacial research and carry out our mission to advance overall health and well-being across the world.

In response to the continuing pandemic, the 100th General Session of the IADR, held in conjunction with the 5th Meeting of APR and originally set to take place in Chengdu, China, was carried out once again to a 100% virtual format. Using the IADR General Session Virtual Experience platform, delegates received online access to all meeting content where they could watch live or view recorded presentations 24 hours a day. On offer were over 1,400 research presentations, including the Distinguished Lecture Series, keynote addresses, symposia, workshops, and oral presentations, all accessible online.

Among this year's highlights are several achievements and milestones reached by our official publications, which have never been stronger. The Journal of Dental Research (JDR) reached its highest ever Impact Factor™ in 2022, scoring an impressive 8.924 and ranking #3 of 92 journals in the "Dentistry, Oral Surgery, & Medicine" category. JDR's 5-year Impact Factor™ came in at over 8 for the first time at 8.463, ranking #4 of 92 journals. The JDR also ranked #1 of 92 journals in total citations and Eigenfactor, #3 in the new Journal Citation Indicator, and #4 in Article Influence Score.

In September, IADR announced the publication of the first supplement to JDR Clinical & Translational Research, "The Changing Face of Dentistry." The papers in this issue represented the final reports of four panels convened for the 2021 Arcora Distinguished Professorship in Dentistry Symposium at the University of Washington. The JDR CTR also now appears on the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI) and is currently ranked 35/158 in the "Dentistry, Oral Surgery & Medicine" category with a Journal Citation Indicator (JCI) of 1.10.

In November, the World Health Organization launched the "Global Oral Health Status Report" which reviewed the most recent data on major oral diseases, risk factors, health system challenges and opportunities for reform. The report was accompanied by an online resource of individual country oral health profiles. As President of IADR, I was proud to represent the oral health community and in a panel discussion and emphasize the need for research to improve global oral health and the challenges that remain in reducing inequalities worldwide.

With all eyes on 2023, we are thrilled to be returning to a 100% in-person format once again for next year's General Session on June 21-25 in Bogotá, Colombia! It will be wonderful to see all our colleagues face-to-face once again and I look forward to seeing everyone there for what will surely be an extraordinary event.

I want to thank you for the opportunity to serve as your President. These are truly exciting times for IADR and I encourage you to take an active part in growing, engaging, and strengthening our scientific community.

Sincerely,

Brian O'Connell
IADR President

MESSAGE FROM THE IADR CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

IADR continues to be the premier international association driving dental, oral, and craniofacial research for health and well-being worldwide. Thanks to the leadership of President Brian O'Connell, a dedicated Board of Directors, and a tireless staff, IADR has carried out its mission this past year with great success despite the ongoing difficulties of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The 2022 IADR/APR General Session & Exhibition was once again carried out on a virtual platform and engaged attendees from 80 countries. Session recordings from the event are now available on-demand on the IADR Webinar & CE On Demand Library, whose catalog of exclusive educational content continues to grow as a valuable member benefit.

The Ask Me Anything events continue to be a popular draw on the IADR Online Community, where members can share their latest findings, exchange ideas, participate in discussion boards, and connect with their peers throughout the year.

It was quite a year for IADR publications as well, with our flagship Journal of Dental Research achieving its highest Impact Factor™ ever, while JDR Clinical & Translational Research published its first supplement and appeared for the first time in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI).

Other highlights from 2022 include the adoption by the IADR Council of two position statements on Community Water Fluoridation and the Individual and Professional Methods of Fluoride Use, as well as IADR's collaboration with the American Dental Association and FDI World Dental Federation in hosting our "Accelerating the Phase-Down of Dental Amalgam" webinar in preparation for the in-person meeting of the COP4 in Bali, Indonesia in March.

2022 marks the fourth year that IADR is a NCD Alliance member, which IADR joined to address the significant global health and economic problems brought on by oral diseases, which are the world's most common non-communicable diseases and share common risk factors. It also marks the second year of IADR membership in the Global Health Council, a U.S.-based membership organization supporting and connecting advocates, implementers, and stakeholders around global health priorities worldwide. IADR joined SmileTrain as a voice for dental, oral, and craniofacial research and health in the Global Health Council.

IADR was an active participant in WHO deliberations advancing the Global Oral Health Strategy and Action Plan and the launch of the Global Oral Health Status Report with country profiles.

There's a lot to look forward to in 2023, not the least of which being the return to a 100% in-person format for next year's IADR General Session & Exhibition with the WCPD in Bogotá, Colombia! And it's perfect timing with much attention on oral health at the global policy level. I want to thank the IADR member community for its ongoing support, as well as IADR President Brian O'Connell and the Board of Directors for selflessly volunteering their time in support of IADR's mission.

Sincerely,

2022 HIGHLIGHTS

JOURNAL OF DENTAL RESEARCH ACHIEVES HIGHEST EVER IMPACT FACTOR

The IADR/AADOCR were thrilled to announce that the Journal of Dental Research (JDR) 2-year Journal Impact Factor™ reached an all-time high of 8.924, ranking #3 of 92 journals in the “Dentistry, Oral Surgery, & Medicine” category, and the JDR 5-year Journal Impact Factor™ is over 8 for the first time at 8.463, ranking #4 of 92 journals.

The JDR also ranks #1 of 92 journals in total citations and Eigenfactor, #3 in the new Journal Citation Indicator and #4 in Article Influence Score. This news comes from the 2022 Journal Citation Reports™ (Clarivate™, 2022).

Full 2022 Journal Citation Reports™ results for the JDR:

- ▲ 2-year Journal Impact Factor™: 8.924, ranking #3 of 92 journals
- ▲ 5-year Journal Impact Factor™: 8.463, ranking #4 of 92 journals
- ▲ Eigenfactor: 0.015700, ranking #1 of 92 journals
- ▲ Total citations: 27,593, ranking #1 of 92 journals
- ▲ Journal Citation Indicator: 2.88, ranking #3 of 92 journals
- ▲ Article Influence Score: 1.878, ranking #4 of 92 journals

JDR SPECIAL ISSUE: DATA-DRIVEN ANALYTICS FOR DENTAL, ORAL, AND CRANIOFACIAL HEALTH CARE

Dental, oral, and craniofacial (DOC) health care and research are generating an increasing amount of data to foster a deeper understanding of patient health and disease, allowing more effective, efficient, and safer care. Some even postulate that data and data analytics may shape “data dentistry”, with data-driven approaches and applications disseminating widely and deeply into DOC research and practice. In October 2022, the JDR published the special issue “Data-Driven Analytics for Dental, Oral, and Craniofacial Health Care,” which focuses on such aspects of DOC Big Data and advanced data analytics, aiming to display not only the breadth of data and analytical strategies currently employed in DOC, but their translational efforts, promised impact, challenges, and current difficulties in the field. This special issue features Falk Schwendicke, Charité-Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany and Mary Marazita, University of Pittsburgh, United States as Guest Editors.

JDR CTR PUBLISHES FIRST SPECIAL ISSUE, “THE CHANGING FACE OF DENTISTRY”

In September, IADR & AADOCR announced the publication of the first supplement to JDR Clinical and Translational Research, entitled, “The Changing Face of Dentistry.” This special issue features Linda LeResche, University of Washington as Guest Editor. The papers in this issue represent the final reports of four panels convened for the 2021 Arcora Distinguished Professorship in Dentistry Symposium at the University of Washington under the theme, “The Changing Face of Dentistry.” The papers provide a range of perspectives on broad social, economic, and technological trends that have implications for the future of dentistry, defined as including not only dental practice, but also dental education, organized dentistry, and dental research. Some common trends were identified in multiple groups, but the perspectives on these trends differed from group to group, and sometimes even among panel members in the same group.

JDR CTR LISTED IN ESCI INDEX

In June, IADR & AADOCR announced that the JDR CTR now appears on the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI). It is currently ranked 35/158 in the “Dentistry, Oral Surgery & Medicine” category with a Journal Citation Indicator (JCI) of 1.10. The 158 journals in the category are inclusive of the 92 journals that receive Impact Factors. Just looking at those in the ESCI, JDR CTR is ranked 1/66 in the Journal Citation Indicator (JCI) for “Dentistry, Oral Surgery & Medicine – ESCI”. The ESCI was launched in late 2015 by Thomson Reuters as a new database in Web of Science. Around 3,000 journals were selected for coverage at launch, spanning the full range of subject areas. Since 2017 the index has been produced by Clarivate Analytics.

INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATIONS

WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION

WHO Global Oral Health Status Report

On November 18, 2022, the World Health Organization launched the Global Oral Health Status Report which reviewed the most recent data on major oral diseases, risk factors, health system challenges and opportunities for reform. The report was accompanied by an online resource of individual country oral health profiles. As part of the launch, IADR President Brian O'Connell participated in a panel discussion and emphasized the need for research to improve oral health of populations and reduce inequalities.

WHO 150th Session of the Executive Board

On January 27, 2022, during the World Health Organization's (WHO) Executive Board's 150th Session, IADR CEO Christopher H. Fox delivered an intervention on behalf of the IADR relative to the draft global strategy on oral health. He commended the WHO on their strategy and its use of research findings to guide the policies held within. On behalf of IADR, he also advocated for further consideration of a vaccination strategy for girls and boys to mitigate the risk for oropharyngeal cancers from HPV exposure, the expansion of Strategic Objective 6 on research to be inclusive of research into the biologic mechanisms of oral diseases to design more effective preventive interventions and treatments, and the integration of the global health strategy into the implementation of the global action plan for NCD prevention and control.

WHO Regional Committee for Africa Meeting

The 72nd session of the WHO Regional Committee for Africa was held in a virtual format from August 22-26, 2022. IADR provided a written intervention to agenda item 17.1 "Progress report on the Regional Oral Health Strategy 2016 – 2025: addressing oral diseases as part of non-communicable diseases" where it championed the following considerations:

- I. Implementation of operational research in the Africa region – research and data should be a cornerstone consideration of all intervention programs and policy implementation.
- II. Allocation of adequate resources to implement national oral health policies including research programs – the failure of well-funded research programs transcends beyond surveillance, the collection of data, and evaluation but also hinders the ability to support decision-making and track progress in oral health activities.
- III. Extension of the Regional strategy to align with the Global strategy by 2030 - the regional oral health strategy should be firmly integrated into the implementation of the global action plan for NCD prevention and control and with efforts to advance primary health care and universal health care.

UNEP MINAMATA CONVENTION ON MERCURY

The virtual Conference of the Parties (COP) 4.2 was held March 21-25, 2022, in Bali, Indonesia. On March 11, 2022, the IADR, in collaboration with the American Dental Association (ADA) and the FDI World Dental Federation, hosted a side event titled "Accelerating the Phase Down of Dental Amalgam" to assist the Minamata delegations in their deliberations. During the Bali portion of the meeting, Member Parties considered two proposals to amend Annex A: Part II, with Botswana, Burkino Faso, and Madagascar submitting an amendment, and the European Union submitting another. IADR, in collaboration with the FDI World Dental Federation, provided a written and verbal intervention and, after several days of negotiations, the Member States passed a compromise that provided additional text to Annex A: Part II that addresses the use of mercury in bulk form by dental practitioners and the use of dental amalgam for dental treatment in patients under 15 years, pregnant, and breastfeeding women.

NCD ALLIANCE

2022 marks the fourth year that IADR is a NCD Alliance member. IADR joined the NCD Alliance because oral diseases are the world's most prevalent NCDs, resulting in considerable health and economic burdens to populations and share common risk factors (unhealthy diets high in free sugars, use of tobacco and harmful consumption of alcohol) with the four main NCD's (cardiovascular, respiratory, cancer, and diabetes).

FDI WORLD DENTAL FEDERATION

The IADR continues to work closely with the FDI on matters such as the Minamata Convention on Mercury, the WHO World Health Assembly resolutions, and other matters of science and oral health. The IADR is formally represented on the FDI Science Committee by IADR past president Helen Whelton.

GLOBAL HEALTH COUNCIL

2022 marks the second year that IADR is a member of the Global Health Council, a U.S.-based membership organization supporting and connecting advocates, implementers, and stakeholders around global health priorities worldwide. IADR joins SmileTrain as a voice for dental, oral, and craniofacial research and health in the Global Health Council.

100th IADR GENERAL SESSION & EXHIBITION

The virtual 100th General Session & Exhibition of the IADR, held in conjunction with the 5th Meeting of the Asia/Pacific Region (APR) on June 20-25, 2022, provided oral health scientists across the world with the opportunity to present, discuss, and critique their latest and most cutting-edge research.

The meeting was virtually attended by 2,132 individuals from 80 countries.

Those attending the meeting could choose from among:

- 1,445 Interactive Talk presentations
- 38 Focused Learning Sessions
- 5 satellite symposia
- 54 symposia
- 34 Hands-on Workshops
- 1 Distinguished Lecture Series plenary session
- 14 Exhibition booths

The 2022 Distinguished Lecture Series speaker was Yigong Shi, Westlake University, Hangzhou, Zhejiang, China, speaking on “Basic Research and Healthcare Industry in China and Beyond.”

Using the IADR General Session Virtual Experience platform, delegates received online access to all meeting content where they could watch live or view recorded presentations 24 hours a day. Thousands of research presentations, including the Distinguished Lecture Series, keynote addresses, symposia, workshops, and Interactive Talks were accessible online.

WEBINARS

IADR WEBINARS

The IADR Webinar & CE On Demand Library allows users to participate in upcoming live webinars and view the growing list of webinars on demand. To help expand our content, IADR created a webinar proposal submission webpage included: where members can submit a webinar proposal for consideration. 2022 webinars included:

RESEARCH ON ORAL HEALTH INEQUALITIES: THE EDITORS' VIEWS

Sponsored by the International Center for Oral Health Inequalities Research and Policy and the IADR Global Oral Health Inequalities Research

May 25, 2022

Moderator

- ▲ Marco Peres, Duke-NUS Medical School, Singapore

Panelists

- ▲ Sarah R Baker, Editor-in-Chief, Community Dentistry and Oral Epidemiology
- ▲ Nicholas Jakubovics, Editor-in-Chief, The Journal of Dental Research
- ▲ Robert J. Weyant, Editor-in-Chief, The Journal of Public Health Dentistry

INSIGHTS ON THE ELUSIVE ORAL MICROBIOME

Sponsored by the IADR Caribbean Section

August 11, 2022

Speaker

- ▲ Lakshman Samaranayake, Professor Emeritus (Microbiomics) and Immediate-past Dean of Dentistry, University of Hong Kong, SAR, China

This presentation provided a state-of-the art overview of the oral microbiome in health and disease and how these usually friendly microbial consortia become foe under elusive circumstances, possibly leading to disease and pathology at distant sites thus affecting the overall human morbidity and mortality. The clinical relevance of the new data for the patient and the practitioner was also discussed.

DIGITAL DENTISTRY—THE FUTURE

Sponsored by the AADOCR Science Information Committee

January 12-23, 2022

Moderator

- ▲ IADR Past President E. Dianne Rekow, King's College London, England

Speakers

- ▲ Bruce Lieberthal, Chief Innovation Officer, Henry Schein, Inc., Melville, NY, USA
- ▲ Jasmin Grischke, Robokind Foundation, Hannover, Germany
- ▲ Scott Howell, A.T. Still University, Mesa, AZ, USA
- ▲ Dennis Fasbinder, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, USA

This focused symposium, "Digital Dentistry – The Future," was comprised of two 90-minute sessions covering advances in digital dentistry research, including artificial intelligence, dentronics, and telehealth, the current gaps in digital dentistry research, and the potential research opportunities for digital dentistry.

PHILANTHROPIC UPDATE

After an initial feasibility study conducted by IADR's consulting firm, Trek Advancement, IADR launched its inaugural fundraising campaign in June 2022. The IADR fundraising campaign allows members of both associations to donate to either organization, and to whichever programs they are most passionate about.

As of December 31, 2022, IADR members have already donated more than $26,000 in support in 2021-2022 to invest in IADR initiatives.

Charitable support will enable IADR to successfully implement, promote, and expand initiatives such as:

- ▲ Travel and research support for scientific researchers in low and middle-income countries through grants and awards.
- ▲ Outreach to countries without capacity by fostering young investigators' research through fellowships and membership funding.
- ▲ Assistance for researchers in Low and Middle-income Countries through the IADR Adopt-A-Member program. This program financially supports members in areas of the world who may not be financially able to pay IADR dues or to attend the IADR General Session.
- ▲ Regional Development Grants promote oral health research worldwide with a specific emphasis on assistance and education in regions with less developed research programs.
- ▲ Online educational resources offer accessible continuing education credit and the latest insights into dental, oral, and craniofacial research.
- ▲ Access to the leading scientific meeting for dental, oral, and craniofacial research, the IADR General Session & Exhibition.

Giving Tuesday, November 29, 2022

IADR members donated a total of $14,600 for Giving Tuesday to move research into action!

Dr. Lois Cohen

has generously committed a $250,000 estate gift to become the inaugural member of the IADR Legacy Society. "IADR has always been the anchor for so many communications and nurturing solid relationships over the years, binding our community together."
-Dr. Lois Cohen

Named after longtime IADR member Prof. Newell W. Johnson of Griffith University in Queensland, Australia, the IADR Newell W. Johnson Travel Award Endowment was established to help new investigators in low- and middle-income countries attend the IADR General Session & Exhibition. The first travel award was awarded in 2022.

In 2022, Dr. Judith Albino donated $10,000 to the IADR Judith Albino Award for Outstanding

Research in Health Equity. The IADR BEHSR Group announced the award in 2022 to recognize a single research investigation published, or accepted for publication, within a given calendar year. The recognized research can involve the discovery or exploration of new manifestations of inequities, or new concepts in understanding inequities in oral health, or new approaches to addressing inequities in oral health care. The first award was given in 2022.

ADOPT-A-MEMBER PROGRAM

The 2022 Adopt-a-Member program supported 26 members and 4 student members from the following Divisions and Sections: Nigerian Division, Southeast Asian Division and Tunisian Section. Designed to provide IADR members with the opportunity to support colleagues who did not have the means to become members, the program aims to support oral and dental researchers in developing parts of the world.

To support attendance in challenging times, all IADR Members and IADR Student members from Low, Lower-Middle or Upper-Middle-Income Countries (LMIC) were eligible for a reduced pre-registration fee for the General Session. This is an expansion of the reduced fee policy to include all members in LMIC's, not just the Region of the General Session. 899 such meeting registrations were processed for the 2022 IADR/APR General Session & Exhibition.

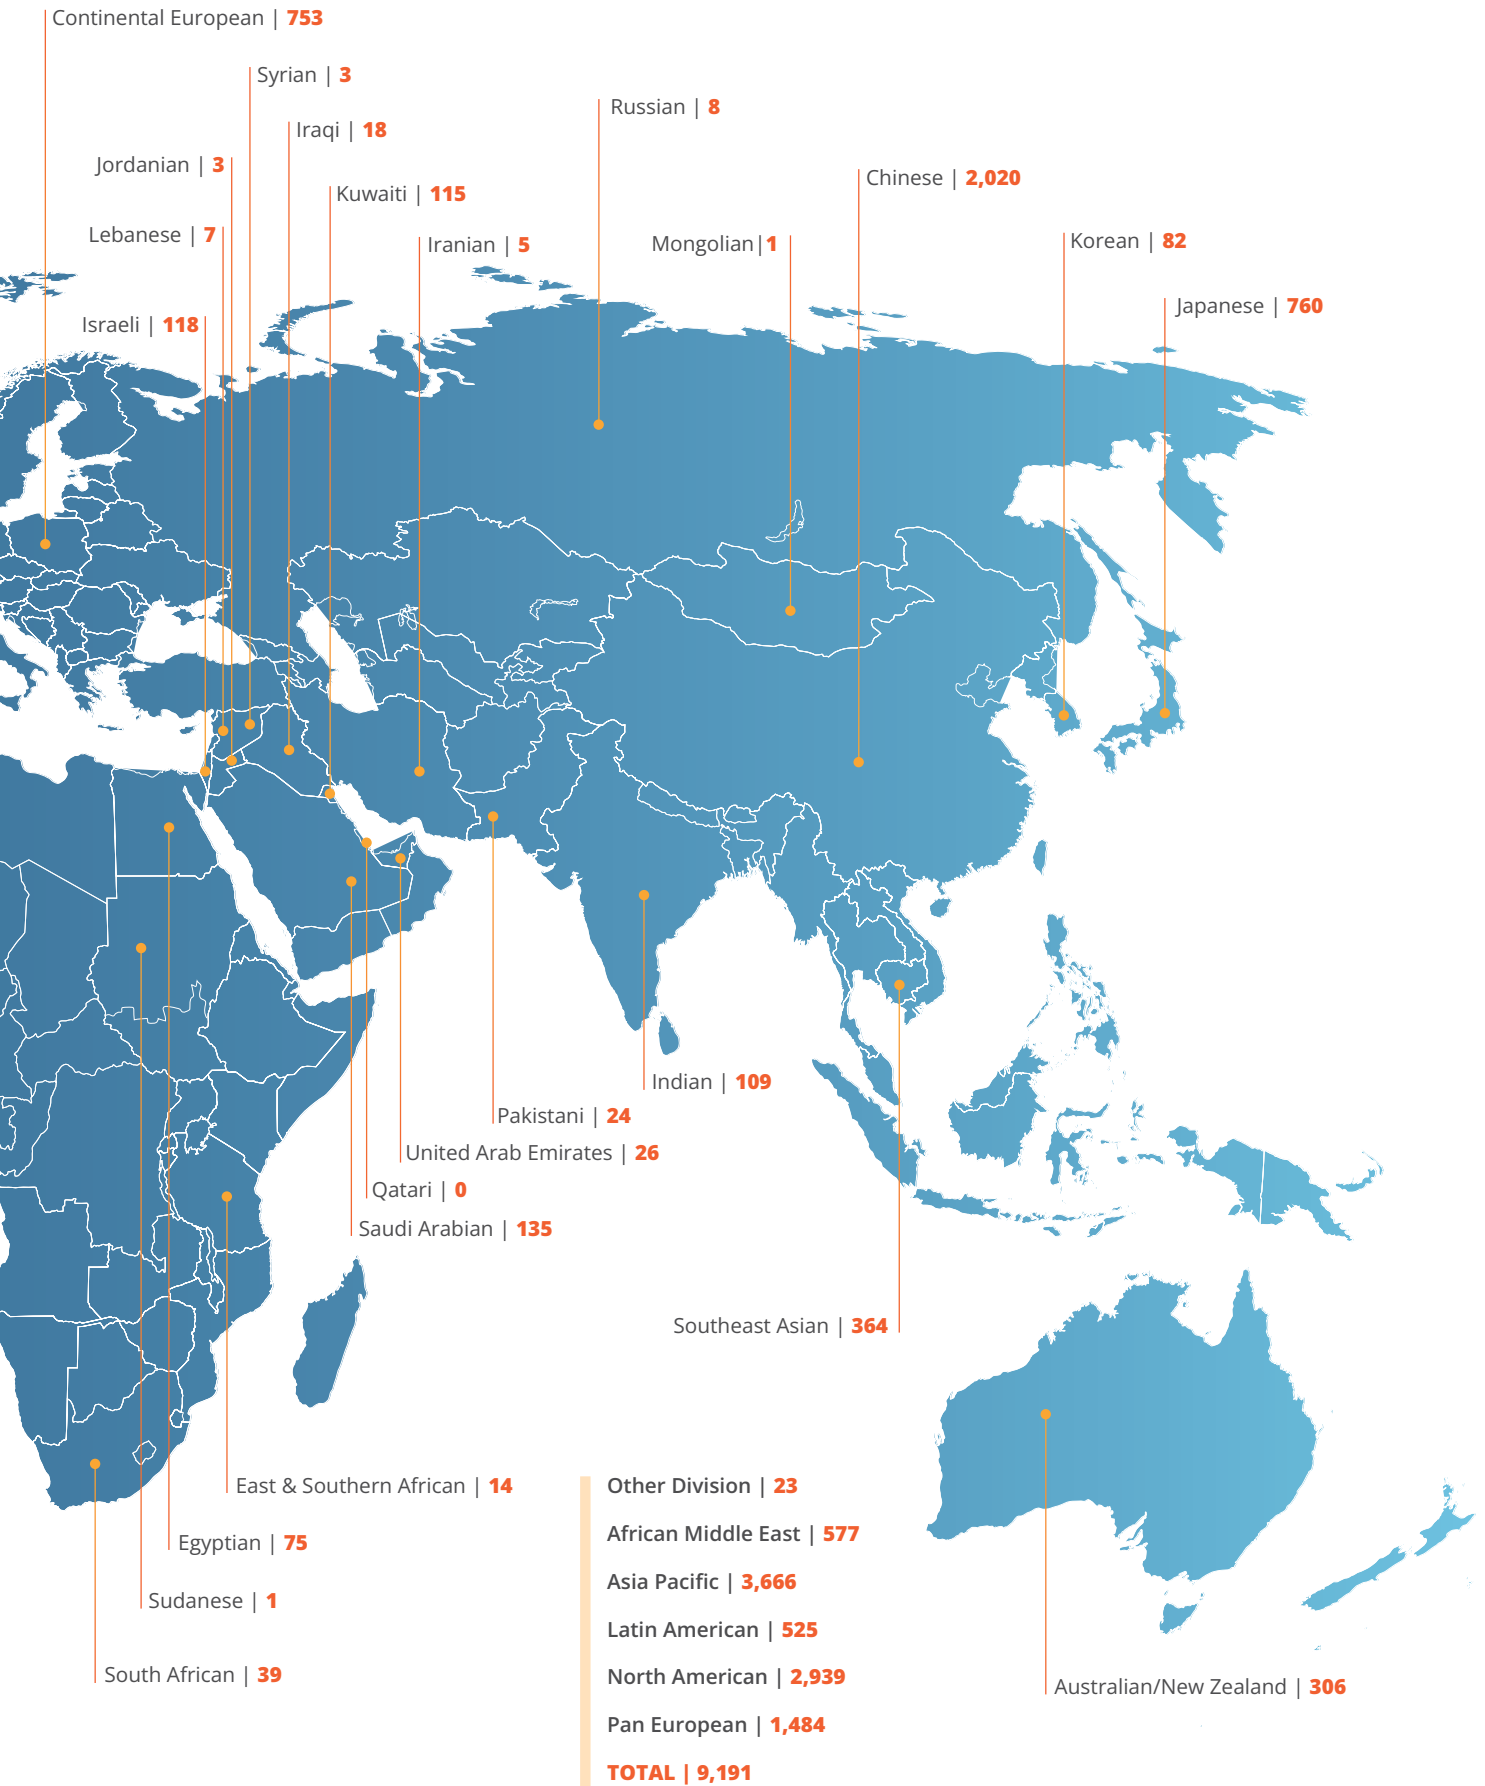

IADR REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Since 1996 through 2022, the Regional Development Program has distributed more than $1.3 million in funding to enhance research capacity and research infrastructure.
