

The Masticator

Official Newsletter of the IADR Neuroscience Group

Vol 17, No 1, February 2021

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Time flies, and 2021 has started! While the world is still fighting against the COVID-19 pandemic, we hope you and your family are healthy and safe.

We are now fully involved in preparing the 99th General Session of the IADR to be held in a hybrid format next July, in Boston, MA, USA. We want to update our Group's status and important deadlines for the next meeting. We have many exciting activities planned for 2021, and at this moment, the official program is being prepared in conjunction with the IADR Headquarter. Stay tuned with the future communications and updates to be presented at the IADR website, and join us in the Group activities!

We are pleased to inform you that Dr. Yoshizo Matsuka was elected as the next vice-president. Dr. Takashi Iida was elected as the next secretary/treasurer of our Group. Dr. Matsuka and Dr. Iida will begin their term after the 2021 IADR General Session and Exhibition in Boston, USA.

Also featuring: the 2021 Poster Competition for "IADR NEUROSCIENCE GROUP INVESTIGATOR AWARDS", which rewards the best abstracts by the Pre-doctoral and Post-doctoral Fellows. The awards are granted in collaboration with Wiley-Blackwell and the Journal of Oral Rehabilitation. You can read the full instructions at:

<http://www.iadr.org/IADR/Awards/Scientific-Group-Awards/NEU>

IMPORTANT: Abstract and supporting documents must be sent no later than the IADR abstract deadline of March 1, 2021 to Dr. Daniela Gonçalves (daniela.g.goncalves@unesp.br).

For more details on our planned activities and final program, please check updates on our Group's website <http://www.iadr.org/IADR/Join-Renew/Groups-Networks/Neuroscience-Group>.

Yoshizo Matsuka
(Tokushima University, Japan)
Secretary/Treasurer
IADR Neuroscience Group
Editor, The Masticator