*D*ear Nutrition Group members,

I really hope this letter finds you well.

As you probably already know, the IADR General Session in Washington DC has been cancelled due to the coronavirus outbreak. It is a great pity, but the emergency is serious.

Below, I forward the news regarding the cancellation that you can also find on the IADR website .

*“Everyone who has registered to attend the meeting will receive a full registration refund within the next 45 days. Once your registration cancellation is processed, you will receive confirmation in a separate email. You do not need to contact IADR or our registration company Spargo. Despite the cancellation of the meeting, IADR/AADR will make abstracts citable as part of a special online only issue of the Journal of Dental Research. Remember to cancel any personal arrangements you’ve made, such as travel and housing reservations. Please note any cancellation of your hotel reservation must be made at least seventy-two (72) hours prior to your scheduled arrival date to avoid penalty (unless noted otherwise).”

I hope this emergency will be soon resolved.

All the best,
